Why Join an International Educator Training?

We became educators to make a difference in our world, but our world is different now as the pandemic and its unprecedented global trauma redefine our roles. How do we stay aligned with our original mission while facing daily challenges with self-care, parenting, remote learning and student well-being?

WE COME TOGETHER.
TO LEARN. TO PRACTICE. TO EMPOWER.

Embody, model and incorporate the social-emotional skills we and our children need to respond to the challenges of the Pandemic Era.

A Co-Created Experience

- Submit a brief application
- Reserve your spot
- Mark your calendar

January 2021

- Jan. 20, 27 & Feb. 3, 10, 17 & 24
- 10 a.m. - 12 p.m. EST (New York)
- 4 p.m. - 6 p.m. CET (Berlin)

Visit siyli.org today for more program information. Click here to apply.
The course not only provides an excellent rationale for why we should practice and grow our emotional intelligence, but also offers effective tools for doing so. I firmly believe that everyone would benefit from this training and especially believe these skills can help our students become happy, healthier individuals.

- Kristen, School Psychologist, United States

Grab hold of a unique opportunity to gather with educators from around the globe to level up your impact.

Stacey Crowley, MA, CCC-SLP

With 20 years of teaching experience, Stacey is passionate about preserving face-to-face communication and providing state of the art emotional intelligence training to adults who teach and raise children.

Sarah Lehn, BA, BASc

On a mission to make learning about the world within more adventurous, authentic and accessible. Sarah is passionate about supporting people and organizations to unfold their true potential.

For this special offer, tuition is free for educators.
* The regular rate of $850 per attendee applies for participants from non-educational sectors.

Program Language: English. Application deadline: January 10, 2021. Space is limited to 15 participants from the United States. Interested parties should apply only if able to attend every session in its entirety.

Please email questions to stacey@LearningTreeLiteracy.org or contact@unfoldwithsarah.com.